

Artists in the Schools and Community

Are you looking for a way to contribute to your community in an artful way? The Arts Council Haliburton Highlands is looking for volunteers for its Artists in the Schools and Community (AITSC) steering committee.

AITSC aims to promote arts education opportunities for people of all ages and provide professional development for artists and arts professionals.

We hope to accomplish this by:

- exposing elementary school students to the world of art by employing local artists to provide classroom instruction in a wide variety of art forms.
- providing youth with a positive and creative outlet through community-based arts programming.
- enabling artists and artisans to further their artistic skills or to assist in the development of their arts business by developing and delivering training programs.
- providing seniors with the social and health benefits of participation in creative activities by providing accessible arts programming.

Under the guidance of the Arts Council Haliburton Highlands board of directors, the AITSC steering committee will meet monthly either in-person or by Zoom. Membership on the committee will be for a one-year period, while we re-focus our efforts after a pause in activities, brought on by the pandemic.

If you are interested in becoming involved in this exciting work please email the Arts Council at haliburtonarts@haliburtonarts.on.ca by July 12, 2021. Please state briefly (in two or three sentences) what your related background is and why you would like to join the committee.

We look forward to hearing from you.
